U.S. Troops Are Edging Closer To Bizerte Base

Steady Gains Being Made By Allies In Offensive In Northern Tunisia

COUNTER-ATTACKS BY NAZIS ROUTED

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, In North Africa, May 5.—American troops stood within 10 miles of Bizerte today and moved forward on all fronts to hasten encirclement of Axis forces in northeastern Tunisia.

An important road junction ten miles northwest of Bizerte was seized at noon yesterday, taking the Americans to a point half-way along the northern shore of Lake Achkel.

At the same time, other United States detachments pushed forward from Mateur mid-way to the Ferryville naval and air base and reached the southeastern ridge of the lake while another advance scored five miles east and southeast of Mateur.

Stubborn Axis counter-attacks were beaten back as the Americans edged ahead.

The Americans held the lead in pushing the Axis backward toward Bizerte and Tunis. Advance elements today drove into Edde Khila in the Tebourba region to help spark the push.

Within Sight Of Bizerte

Considering that north of Lake Achkel the American spearhead is standing within easy sight of Bizerte, a few miles below which is the

PA NEW OBSERVES

Second war loan drive is concluded, but the necessity of buying war bonds and stamps continues. Keep up your regular purchases in the future. Gigantic expenditures for waging this global war must be met.

Pa News notes that the historic remnant of a tree on the public square, refuses to expire. It gives evidence beginning to sprout leaves again this year. Pa News also notes that the public square grass has been given its first barbing of the season.

Now that the weather has gotten nice the Selective Service officials in the state have changed conditions, which would have been appreciated by the men going into the army last winter. Instead of going to Erie on buses, as they did during the cold winter months, the men now go to Pittsburgh by train, and this week, the men who are going away to the reception centers, will leave in the evening, instead of the early morning hours. A few will go on an early morning train, but most of the men from the two city boards and county board two will leave early in the evening.

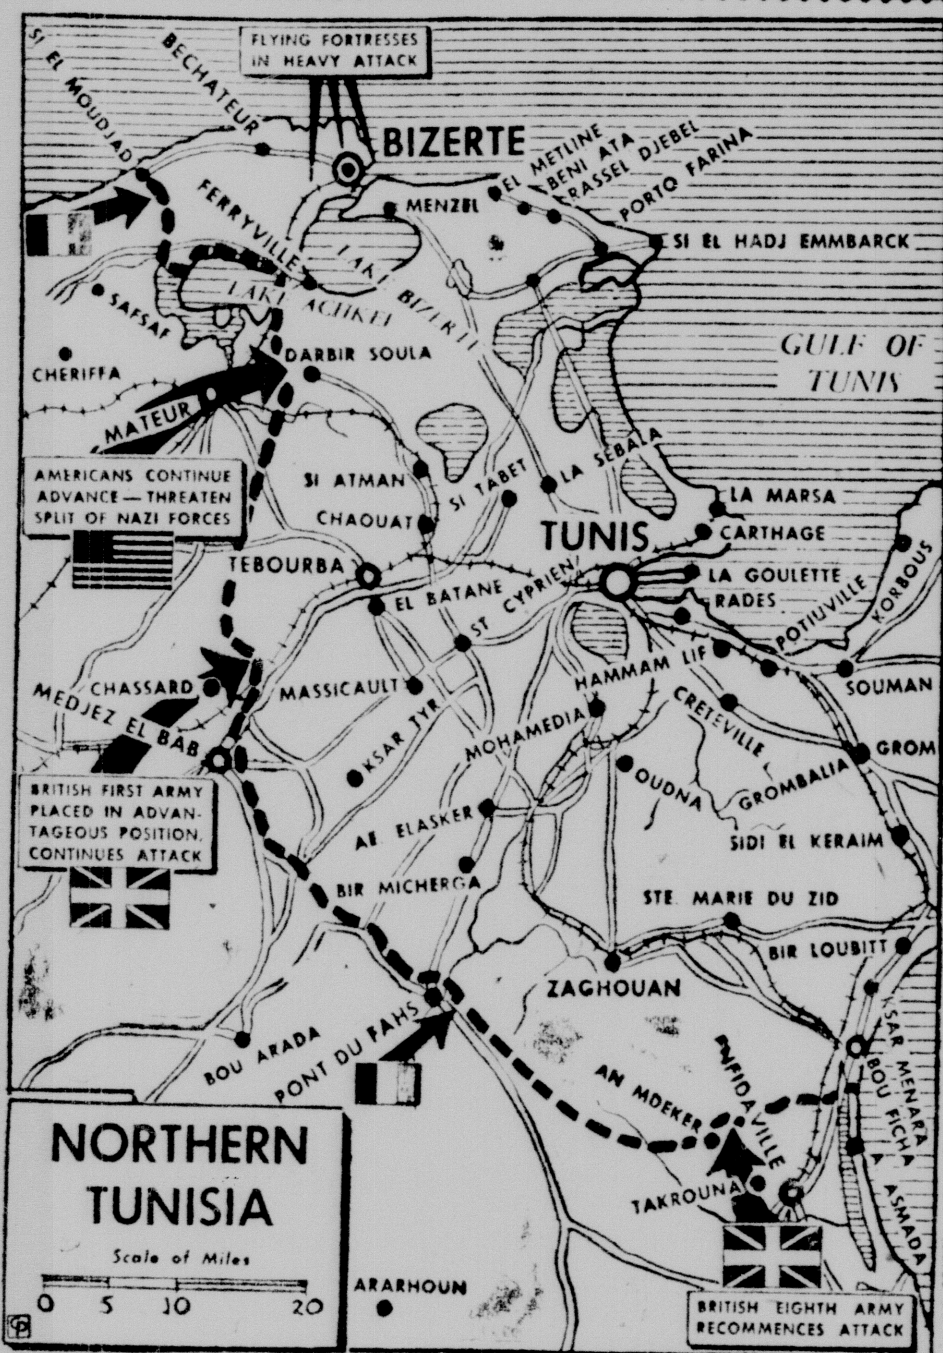

Detours on the Pennsylvania road system are almost as scarce as ration points at the end of the month. According to the detour bulletin of the Pennsylvania Highway Department, which is now issued for a monthly period, the current one ending May 28, there are only a half dozen or so detours in the western end of Pennsylvania, none of them being in Lawrence, Butler, Mercer counties, and only one in Beaver county, between Allegheny and Monaca.

Daily Weather Report

United States weather statistics for the 24-hour period ending at 9 p. m. today are as follows:

River stage, 6.7 feet.

Statistics for the same date a year ago, follow:
Maximum temperature, 68.
Minimum temperature, 39.

YANKS MAY SPLIT AXIS FORCES

Continuing their advance beyond Mateur, American forces in Tunisia now threaten to cut the Axis defensive line in two. Meanwhile, as shown on this map, the British First and Eighth armies also continue their advances, with American Flying Fortresses heavily raiding the area about Bizerte, Axis stronghold.

Red Army Units Smash Furiously At Nazi Defense

Unleash Determined Assault To Regain Black Sea Naval Base Of Novorossisk

HEAVY BATTLES REPORTED IN AREA

By NATALIA RENE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, May 5.—Red Army units smashed furiously today at Nazi defense positions in the west Caucasus as the Russians unleashed a determined assault to regain possession of the Black Sea naval base of Novorossisk.

The Soviet high command said in its noon communique that heavy fighting was in progress northeast of the Port where Soviet artillery and rifle units are hammering relentlessly at the Germans.

The German radio already has admitted Nazi evacuation of the Kuban valley town of Krimskaya, 15 miles northeast of Novorossisk.

Artillery Barrage

A tremendous artillery barrage was loosed during the night against German positions on one sector where four Nazi tanks and 21 guns were destroyed and a battalion of German infantry wiped out, the high command said.

Soviet Stormtroop dive-bombers acted in concert with the Russian ground forces to raid Nazi airbases in the last remaining enemy bridgehead.

Possible Military Action May Result Against Martinique

By PETER MCKNIGHT
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

SAN JUAN, P. R., May 5.—Possibility of American military and naval action against the Caribbean island of Martinique has been increased considerably by Secretary of State Cordell Hull's disclosure that High Commissioner Admiral Georges Robert still refuses to join the Allied camp, informed quarters said today.

Army and Navy circles who have consistently discounted the idea that Admiral Robert's forces could offer any real resistance to American occupation, and who have been concerned over Martinique's military threat to Allied operations, saw increased tension in the situation.

American Consul General Marcel Malige, bearing the answer of Admiral Robert to State Department representations, now is in San Juan. He went into consultation with naval officials immediately upon his arrival.

W. L. B. To Take Up Coal Wage Parley Again

Settlement Of Mine Wage Controversy To Be Settled By W. L. B.

LEWIS IS AGAIN FACING SHOWDOWN

(BULLETIN)

NEW YORK, May 5.—John L. Lewis today scheduled an afternoon meeting of his United Mine Workers Union's policy committee as a definite threat of another work stoppage hung over the nation's coal mines.

By JACK VINCENT
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 5.—

The War Labor Board today prepared to settle the wage controversy between John L. Lewis and the nation's coal operators whether Lewis likes it or not.

It was being backed up by President Roosevelt and Coal Czar Harold L. Ickes, who seized the coal mines after 540,000 members of Lewis' United Mine Workers union struck last Friday midnight.

Acting after the general walkout was called off under a 15-day truce, the board set tomorrow as the date for resumption of hearings.

Soft coal operators and Lewis were invited to appear. Lewis last week precipitated the strike in the coal fields rather than go before the W. L. B.

Will Proceed Anyhow

If he still refuses to appear tomorrow, the Board will proceed with the case anyhow and later hand down a finding on the miners' demands for a $2-a-day wage increase and other concessions.

With the truce expiring in two weeks, the coal situation was still

Plan New Drive Against Pleasure Driving In Nation

Will Check Upon Motorists Holding 'B' And 'C' Cards O. P. A. Announces

NATION-WIDE CRACK-DOWN NEAR

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 5.—The office of Price Administration today invoked a nation-wide pleasure-driving ban against 10,000,000 motorists holding "B" and "C" gasoline ration books.

The action climaxes growing evidence of OPA's new-found toughness and determination to put teeth into its price and rationing enforcement, curb rising costs of living, roll back excessive food prices and wipe out black markets in food, gasoline and other commodities.

Assign Investigators

Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown instructed OPA district offices to assign "all available investigators" to clean up the present gasoline black market and the misuse of "B" and "C" books for non-essential driving. Technically, such books always have been issued only for occupational purposes, but there have been widespread violations.

"Every effort will be made to detect such violators and not only to revoke their present ration books, but to suspend their right to any further ration for an appreciable time," he said.

"It is our hope that any motorist stopped by the police because of any city ordinance or other local law violation will be questioned to determine whether he is also violating the rationing regulations.

To Report Motorists

"Police also will be asked to report motorists visiting distant resorts and recreation spots. We shall also ask their help in turning in the license numbers of those motorists whose visits to race tracks and other places of amusement are out of keeping with their gas allowance."

OPA's "crack-down" on "B" and "C" book violators tops off a whirlwind surge of activity which has beset the agency since President Roosevelt strengthened its position with a public pronouncement to

Heavy Raid On Jap Air Base

Allied Bombers Blast Enemy Base At Babo, Dutch New Guinea

JAP PLANES FAIL IN AIR BATTLE

(International News Service)

UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, May 5.—Much of the Japanese air base at Babo, Dutch New Guinea, lies in fire-blackened ruins today as a result of a heavy raid by a flight of Allied heavy bombers.

Flying through bad weather which has hampered air operations north of Australia for two weeks, the Allied pilots yesterday apparently caught the Japs by surprise. Besides kindling large fires amid air-port buildings, they destroyed a number of enemy planes on the ground.

On their return trip, the raiders were met by six Jap float planes which attempted interception over the Aru Islands. Two of the Nips were shot out of action. The Allied formation returned to its base without loss.

Other Allied planes bombed and strafed enemy barges and huggers off Tananarive Island, in the Kei group between Dutch New Guinea and Australia, and other small enemy vessels at Loloban Island, off New Britain, in the Kimbe Bay, New Britain, where the village of Gaveira also was strafed and fires started.

NEW SPEED RECORD FOR OCEAN CROSSING

(International News Service)

LONDON, May 5.—Shattering of the transatlantic speed record by an American Liberator plane was announced today—the second such announcement within a week.

Bully laden, a Liberator bomber piloted by a Briton, Captain Samuel Buxton, made the 4,200-mile crossing from Newfoundland in six hours and 12 minutes.

The flight clipped eight minutes from the record set last week by a Canadian pilot, also flying a heavily laden Liberator.

American Forces Ready For Expanding Operations On Great Pacific Front

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 5.—American land, sea and air forces fanned out today on a widening front in the Pacific in moves that left them prepared for offensive or defensive operations on a moment's notice.

Long-range U. S. submarines spearheaded American blows against the Japanese by slashing across enemy supply lines, while planes pounded forward bases.

Subs Sink Jap Destroyers

In the latest forays within enemy-controlled waters, American submarines sent to the bottom two Jap destroyers, one tanker, two supply ships and a transport and badly damaged another transport.

While the Japanese may strike again at Allied outposts, the following developments indicated that U. S. forces were on the alert everywhere and may be preparing to deliver important new blows against the enemy.

1. American and United Nations planes continued their furious aerial offensives against advance Jap bases in the Aleutians, the Solomons and the Australian war zones.

2. U. S. forces were entrenched in the Russell Islands, 30 miles northwest of Guadalcanal, providing an advance base between American main positions and Jap installations in the Central Solomons.

3. American warships have been active in the North Pacific and in a recent battle routed a number.

Bishop Leonard Killed In Crash

Dies With Lieut. Gen. Andrews In Plane Accident In Iceland

Former Bishop Of Pittsburgh Area

By JOHN E. LEE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, May 5.—The tragic death of Lieut. Gen. Frank Maxwell Andrews, commander of American armed forces in Europe, in an Iceland air crash cast a pall of gloom today over his headquarters.

Gen. Andrews and Bishop Adna Wright Leonard, of the Methodist Episcopal church in America, died together in the crash.

The official communique termed the crash "very heavy," indicating that it was one of the now famous concentrated assaults in which the greatest weight of bombs is dropped in the shortest possible time.

Also attesting to the size of the raid was the fact that the British lost 30 planes. From average losses on previous raids it might be deduced that upwards of 500 bombers took part.

The air ministry said visibility over the target, apart from ground haze, was good.

Preliminary reports indicate the bombing was well concentrated, it was said.

Dortmund also an important rail center in the Rhine area, is 50 miles northeast of Düsseldorf. It is linked with the River Rhine by the Dortmund-Ems Canal which is 170 miles in length.

The raid was the first against the Reich proper since May night when Knapp Armaments works at Essen and other industrial objectives in the Ruhr Valley were blasted by a formidable R. A. F. squadron.

Report Others May Be Dead

Numerous rumors current in London say other prominent military leaders were in the Andrews plane, but headquarters of the European theater of operations refused to comment until fuller details of the air crash became available.

Andrews' death particularly shocked newsmen. Virtually his last act before leaving London was to stage an informal reception for war correspondents in his command Friday night at the officers club.

Bishop Leonard, who had been in Northern Ireland recently, originally was scheduled to return to London. He apparently seized the opportunity.

AMERICAN FLIERS IN TARANTO RAID

(International News Service)

CAIRO, May 5.—Heavy new American air raids on Italian objectives, including the vital naval base at Taranto, were announced officially today.

Giant Liberator bombers of the Middle East command attacked Taranto by daylight yesterday, while other warplanes of the same type bombed Reggio De Calabria, at the tip of the Italian boot, a headquarters communique disclosed.

Bombs were seen to burst in the harbor and among fuel installations at Taranto, while at Reggio De Calabria hits were observed along important docks and on buildings in the harbor area. Exact results of this attack, however, were difficult to gauge, returning fliers said, because of dense cloud formations which hung over the port.

All planes returned safely.

Huge American Bombers Attack Indo-China Bases

Greatest Air Raid From China Hits Island Of Hainan And Haiphong

GREAT DAMAGE TO MAJOR JAP BASES

By JOHN W. JARRELL
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH U. S. ARMY AIR FORCES IN CHINA, May 5.—

Fires visible 100 miles away raged today in the wake of the greatest Allied air raids yet staged in the far eastern theater of war—twin assaults by huge American craft of all descriptions against the Japanese-occupied island of Hainan and the port of Haiphong in French Indo-China.

Four-motored and two-engined bombers, including newly-arrived Consolidated Liberators, carried out the joint attack with protection of fighters and interceptors.

All-American Attack

It was an all-American show. The planes which participated were part of Maj. Gen. Claire L. Chennault's ever-growing Fourteenth United States Army Air Force.

Both Hainan and Haiphong, which are among the greatest Japanese bases established in occupied areas, have long been thorns in the side of American and Chinese forces seeking to break Nippon's stranglehold upon the Far East.

Hainan Island lies due south of Chinese Hwangchow on the Gulf of Tongking. Haiphong also is situated on this gulf on the northeastern shore of Indo-China.

Major Naval Bases

Both have been developed by the Japanese into naval and air bases of major importance.

Smoke plumed two miles into the sky and fires were visible 100 miles away after the Liberators, carrying out their first assignment with the 14th Air Force, dropped tons of bombs.

Ensign Makes 302 Day Trip

New Castle Youth Here
After Ship Voyage Of Nearly Year At Sea

Ashore again after a 302-day sea voyage, Ensign L. A. Shearer of the United States Maritime Commission is visiting relatives and friends in New Castle. Ensign Shearer has 15 years service back of him in the merchant marine, although he is not yet 30 years of age.

He has sailed aboard almost every type of craft, both freight and passenger, and the list of ports he has visited sounds like a complete Cook's tour of all the navigable waters of the world. He is equally at home in Liverpool, Stockton, Shanghai, Calcutta, Colombo, Panama or Capetown.

The trip he has just completed began at Baltimore. From there his ship went east around the Cape of Good Hope up through the Indian Ocean, the Bay of Bengal, the Pacific to Australia and New Zealand, and the last long leg of the trip was from Wellington, N. Z., across the Pacific through the Panama Canal and up the east coast to Baltimore. Several times they were combed by enemy airmen, but missed the fate of his previous trip, when Ensign Shearer was on a raft in the Caribbean Sea for 24 hours after his ship was torpedoed.

On his most recent trip he picked up a wide variety of interesting souvenirs in India, Iran, Ceylon, Australia and New Zealand. Among them are coins of the various countries, hand-carved teak elephants, brass century calendars, various postage stamps and a host of other things.

Before returning to sea duty he will report to an eastern examining point for an examination for promotion to the rate of second engineer. This carries with it a Naval Reserve commission as lieutenant (JG). His present rating is third engineer with the USNR commission as ensign.

ally superior force west of the Aleutian chain, while subs have been backing at Jap supply lines everywhere.

Fleet Much Stronger
Secretary of Navy Knox disclosed that the numerical strength of America's fleet and its auxiliaries has been increased 25 per cent by new construction since Jan. 1.

U. S. occupation of the Russells indicated that American forces have been expanding their holdings throughout the Pacific in preparation for anticipated major assaults against enemy positions.

Recently the navy disclosed that U. S. forces also held Funafuti Island in the Ellice group, only 695 miles southeast of Japanese bases in the Gilbert Islands.

In the North Pacific, U. S. forces apparently have been creeping closer to Japanese-held Kiska, object of a terrific aerial offensive during the past two months.

Recent dispatches cleared by censors in the Aleutians reported that American forces were operating from bases "within the shadow of Kiska."

The navy's disclosure of details about the March 26th naval battle in the North Pacific indicated that America's Pacific fleet has been expanding its sphere of operations.

The outnumbered U. S. task force of one heavy and one light cruiser and four destroyers routed an enemy flotilla of two heavy and two light cruisers and six destroyers escorting supplies to Attu.

hold down the cost of living and eliminate black marketeers and "chiselers" from the economic scene.

Other Developments
1. OPA announced that specific dollars and cents "community wide" price ceilings will go into effect next Monday in approximately 150 cities on poultry, fluid milk, bread, eggs, butter, packaged cheese, sugar, cereals, evaporated and condensed milk, flour and other grocery items.

2. The OPA reported—on the first anniversary of food rationing in the United States—that 131,600,000 copies of ration book 1 and 126,331,000 copies of ration book 2 have been distributed, with book 3 to be sent out through the mails in June. An estimated 8,775,706,000 pounds of sugar have been rationed since the program began on May 5, 1942, one year ago today.

To Get Violators

OPA Chief Brown acknowledged that the great mass of "A," "B" and "C" books holders have accepted gasoline rationing in good spirit. "It would be unfair to them, as well as destructive of this vital rationing program, not to proceed vigorously against willful violators," he said.

"Motorists, of course, may use the gasoline bought on their 'A' books any way they wish. But with the limited amount of driving that an 'A' book permits, it is impossible for any one to travel very far or very often to race tracks, or to distant resorts, or for other non-essential purposes."

Sees Inequality
Persons earning above $4,000 a year would be made only partially current inasmuch as the measure only cancels the first 19 percentage points of the 1942 tax rate.

George announced that his committee would start consideration of the Robertson-Forand compromise Thursday, but he made it plain that the bill did not meet his approval. "I am very disposed to question," George said, "whether this bill gives equality of tax treatment, and I see no reason why equality of treatment should not be preserved."

"I think it was a sorry exhibition for the house to pass the Robertson-Forand bill. It is almost as objectionable as the Doughton bill (which the house sidetracked)."

"I plan to offer as a substitute, my bill which embodies the Ruml plan. As far as I am concerned the Robertson-Forand bill will have a very poor reception in the senate."

Troop concentrations also were blasted by the bombers.

In many instances the Russians locked with the Germans in fierce hand-to-hand fighting during which heavy losses were inflicted on the Germans.

Shoot Down 35 Nazi Planes
Extent of the aerial fighting was indicated in the disclosure that the Soviet air force yesterday "inflicted a serious defeat" on the Germans by destroying 35 Nazi planes west of Krasnodar. Loss of 11 Russian craft was acknowledged.

In the Donets river area Soviet artillery destroyed numerous German blockhouses and annihilated a company of infantry north of Chuguey, below Kharkov.

Two companies of Germans were partly annihilated in bitter artillery exchanges west of Rostov.

The high command reported the slaying of 150 Germans on the central front west of Moscow.

To the far north, on the Volkhov front below Leningrad, Russian artillery smashed 17 Nazi pillboxes on one sector while on another two German groups were dispersed by mortar fire. In the latter engagement 70 Nazis were killed.

PROBE BLAST KILLING TWENTY

were able to go home after being treated, 25 remained in the plant hospital, all in serious condition, and five were listed as critical.

The explosion let go at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon in a small, corrugated iron storage building. The structure was demolished and flames licked out at nine other buildings, which were also wrecked before firemen from nearby points could get the flames under control. Many of those burned were eating at a nearby canteen when the blast occurred.

Emergency Hospital
At Elkton, a mile and a half away, windows were shattered and people as far as six miles from the scene reported feeling the shock.

Ambulances were immediately pressed into service and the injured filled an emergency hospital in the basement of the Immaculate Conception church, the plant hospital and Union hospital, at Elkton.

Thousands of workers reporting for a new shift when the explosion occurred were not allowed inside the company's gates and were told to report for work until today.

Eyewitness Elvin Smith described the blast.

"There was a tremendous noise," he said. "I looked over the fence and saw one of the buildings disappear in flame and smoke. It seemed there were bodies flying everywhere."

An employee, William Jones, was only 20 yards away.

"It was impossible to tell whether some of the victims were alive or dead," he recalled. "We just loaded them into ambulances and trucks as fast as we could."

"Most of the workers I picked up were young women. They were Army navy and FBI agents were on the scene today in an attempt to fix the cause for the explosion."

An appeal to protect the South Calaveras Sequoia Grove, in Oregon, from the woodman's axe was referred to the conservation chairman, N. R. Cassillo, and his committee, for action. The Parent Problem

By Gary C. Myers, Ph. D.

CORPORAL PUNISHMENT RECOMMENDED

In some states the teacher is forbidden by law to lay a hand on the child to restrain him. In local school communities of some other states, the Board of Education has outlawed all forms of corporal punishment in the school.

In general, some very positive good has come from these prohibitions. Teachers have had a strong motive to find positive measures for controlling children at school. The attention of teachers and of those who train and supervise teachers has centered on trying to understand the child, win his cooperation and help him enjoy success at learning.

Defiant Pupils
Most children have responded favorably to the milder, motivating ways. Nevertheless, a few children, alas, have not. Now and then a school child, who knows his teacher is forbidden ever to resort to corporal punishment, will openly defy the most reasonable direction or command of the teacher, even brag and dare the teacher to do anything about it. In this attitude he may be aided and abetted by his parents.

You have read in the public press of some recent samples of shameful tragedies in a few classrooms where the rod has been outlawed for several decades.

Moreover, where the teacher or principal has no authority to use corporal punishment in extreme cases, he has as a last resort expelled the child from school. Might not a good paddling early enough have saved some of these youngsters for good citizenship?

Absolutely no corporal punishment at school might easily have worked well everywhere if all children were properly disciplined at home, especially in the early years.

Respect for Authority
But with more children year by year entering school without having learned to respect authority at home, thanks to the doctrine of no spanking at any age, there are increasing numbers of school children who have never learned the alphabet of restraint. How are teachers going to tame all these barbarians without some use of physical force?

These children are not limited to underprivileged or undereducated homes. Indeed, the country over, home restraints have relaxed, it seems, in the upper groups.

When I am asked before conventions of teachers if I advise corporal punishment at school, I reply that while I wish corporal punishment were not forbidden at school, I would advise a teacher not to resort to it, except in physical self-defense, and, as a rule, only on advice of the principal or superintendent and in his presence and preferably with the child's parent present. "Even then," I add, "for your own protection and that of the school, I should proceed very cautiously."

By all means, I would condemn at home or school corporal punishment for mistakes or lapses in learning from books. My bulletin, "How to Teach the Tot the Meaning of NO" may be had by writing me at 235 East 45th Street, New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

Solving Parent Problems
Q. My baby is six months old. When should I begin training her to drink from a cup?
A. Now. Occasionally offer her water, fruit juice or milk in a cup gently putting it to her mouth. Make sure not to stir up resistance in her. Remove the cup when she strongly objects, but keep patiently at it, being glad if you get complete cooperation after several months or even a year.

Q. When my girl, two, is in another room and I call to her she rarely answers me. This makes me very angry.
A. It shouldn't. You should know better than to expect her always to answer at this age. It would be better never to command or request a child of any age when not face to face with him. Distance lends to disobedience.

One Man's Opinion
By WALTER KIERNAN
INS Staff Writer
There are 31 United Nations and 48 kinds of uniforms for the women of this one.

And the best uniform we've seen to date is a faded house dress.

It is the official uniform of the "stay home and take care of the family" women's auxiliary of the human race.

Despite the de-emphasis of the theory that a woman with a husband and young children should be a home maker before she is anything else it still sounds like a reasonable proposition.

The WAACS and the WAVES and the coast guard and the marine women's outfits are fine—they have standards which are good standards for enlistment.

But these volunteer whoop-and-holler outfits with the trick uniforms and no apparent purpose except to get in the way of the war and pose for photographers are getting beyond the beyond.

It's time some of the ladies running around in the station wagons got back to giving the baby his bottle.

Thought for the day: War is no social organization.

Sun sets tonight 7:57. Sun rises tomorrow 5:55.

A man is resigned to fate if he feels flattered when he hears someone body tell how handsome he used to be.

Do you remember the sailor who, when asked what he had done with his wages, answered "I put them for liquor, part for women, and the rest I spent foolishly."

"John," she said, "I've got a lot of things I want to talk to you about."

"Good," John interrupted. "I'm awfully glad to hear it. Usually you want to talk to me about a lot of things you haven't got."

An American visiting Scotland for the first time found himself puzzled over the dialect of the hotel porter. Taking the man for a foreigner, he inquired his nationality.

"From the greatest country the world has ever known," said the American.
"Mon," exclaimed the Scot, "what an awfu' peety ye've lost your accent!"

CRITICISING YOUR ADOPTED

"Am I supersensitive or is it really rude for newcomers to my city to compare it unfavorably with their previous city of residence. I have some friends who take the greatest delight in speaking bitterly of my city and in telling me that it isn't as clean as theirs—that our accents are nasal; whereas theirs are soft etc., etc."—Maggie.

Answer: They are just as rude as the boy who accepts your hospitality, eats part of your rationed butter, drinks your rationed coffee and then criticizes your house-keeping and your menu—behind your back, of course. I don't blame you for your resentment. The next time they rave so, ask them politely why they remain in such an unattractive place and why they left the utopia of which they speak so fondly. This will probably settle the question permanently.

If you are disagreeable about it, they may be offended and never return. So, if you do "tell them off," do it with a smile and make your remarks facetious.

Question: I am invited to my first tea. Please tell me what I should do?—May L.

Answer: After you have laid aside your wraps, go to the drawing or living room to greet your hostess. She will introduce you to those receiving with her (if there is a receiving line). If no one else arrives to take the hostess' attention, you may linger for a while and chat with her. But if she is occupied

You may have heard this one before. A teacher asked the third grade to use the word "beans" in a sentence.

"I eat beans."

"We are all human beans."

Senate Request No Compliment To Press
Solons Want To Attend Executive Confabs
Are Apprehensive Of Unskillful Publicity

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Contributing Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, May 5.—United States senators are not exactly complimentary to Washington's newspapermen in asking to be permitted to sit in on all the reporters' press conferences with high executive officials.

These conferences of course are mass interviews. Naturally it is not a practicality for the average governmental higher-up to be questioned by the boys one at a time. So the system is for each official to have his regular series of dates, when he receives the whole gang, all in a crowd.

An occasional special per double-snoops in by himself, surreptitiously, but it isn't the rule. It doesn't popularize him with the rank-and-file of his profession. Furthermore, dope that he gets in this fashion has to be so fully authenticated as to amount to a definite statement from headquarters. If not it's suspected as a fake. And definiteness is just what officialdom generally wants to dodge. If the stuff's origin is doubtful, it's n. g. Otherwise it's apt to raise Cain.

Well, suppose we have a whole herd of correspondents, quizzing a single official.

You might say that the net result should be fairly representative.

Such, however, isn't necessarily the case.

The official's tendency is to duck and dodge. And the correspondents' tendency is to be mightily careful how they quote him, because if they give out a statement that is a shred of hope remains for a diplomatic alliance of benefit to either, it is safe to assume that there would have been no break.

Therein lies the great difference between Russia on the one hand, and America and Britain on the other, in their respective methods of dealing with international problems. We—and the British—are prone to talk as long as hope for peaceful settlement remains. But Russia, as we have seen, puts little stock in conversation. Unless a solution satisfactory to Russia is obtained and at once, conversation ends and in the case of international dispute a diplomatic break follows.

This is one of the characteristics of the Russia of today that might well be kept in mind when peace terms eventually are discussed. It may perhaps, explain why Russia has been silent when we and the British have been making over the world and arranging post-war solutions to the problems of everyone.

It is likely that the Russians do not regard this as the time to do much talking; their first concern is to defeat the enemy. They are coldly realistic to know that despite all this talk of benevolence to everyone after the fighting stops, the victor dictates the terms of the treaty to be signed by the vanquished.

Despite the excellent showing of American and British forces in North Africa, Russia today still stands as the major threat to Germany. We aren't on European soil, and until we are and, consequently, able to deliver some knockout blows to the German army, Russia will dominate the situation here. Should peace come today, I would be a Russian victory insofar as Europe is concerned. Russia never has admitted that a second front has been established; never has shown much enthusiasm for the victories of the British and Americans in North Africa. Russia is viewing the whole matter realistically—until direct and immediate relief is given Russia, in the form of a strongly diverting action on the European continent by America and Great Britain, the Stalin government is likely to consider itself the sole defender of the continent against Nazism.

The split between Russia and the Polish government in exile reveals no new trait in Russian character. It merely emphasizes an old one that we should keep in mind as we go about promising other nations what the Axis will do for them. Remember, Russia is an ally.

When Justice Holmes died, Thomas was made doorman of the Supreme Court. Not being as young as he used to be, the doorman being heavy, they gave him a comfortable chair and a strong silken rope to pull open the portals of the country's highest tribunal.

But it is a story typical of American life.

The World and the Mud Puddles

THEY DO LITTLE TALKING

The British believe that the Russians have fallen victims of German propaganda because Moscow severed diplomatic relations with the Polish government in exile.

The Russians claim they did it because the Poles accuse them of killing from ten to twelve thousand Polish troops in Russia. The Germans actually did it, say the Russians and add that the Poles made no attempt to determine the truth or the falsity of the charges which, they say, came from Berlin.

Both the British and American governments have expressed regret over the incident and both say they had hoped for an amicable settlement of the controversy, which evidently had been going on for some time. There is little doubt that either the American or British governments would have found a way to patch up their dispute to their advantage. Each might have had to make concessions, each might have had to close its eyes to some bit of evidence that may have appeared authentic. But as long as a shred of hope remains for a diplomatic alliance of benefit to either, it is safe to assume that there would have been no break.

Therein lies the great difference between Russia on the one hand, and America and Britain on the other, in their respective methods of dealing with international problems. WINDING UP NEGOTIATIONS ON RAILROAD WAGE

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, May 5.—The nation's biggest wage dispute, the plea of 15 non-operating railroad unions for a 20 cents an hour wage increase with a 70-cent minimum, quietly drew to a close today.

As the presidential fact-finding board began winding up its hearing in the case, final arguments were presented by attorneys for the nation's railroads and the unions.

If the wage increase is granted, $466,000,000 a year will be added to the operating costs of Class I railroads, $26,000,000 to costs of the Railway Express Agency and an additional sum for short lines and other employees.

The dispute, which involves 900,000 employees, has been before the board since March 1, under procedures of the National Railway Labor Act.

Annual Concert At Wampum High Set For May 12

Wampum high school music students will present their annual concert in the school auditorium on Wednesday evening, May 12, at 8:30. Miss Boyer, music director, will be in charge.

The program will be in two parts. The first part will be given over to the vocal students. They will feature solos, ensembles, quartets and trios, with the girls and mixed choruses rendering several beautiful and familiar tunes in three and four part harmony.

The 30-piece band in uniform will open the second half of the program. The band has prepared several beautiful and patriotic numbers. The junior and senior twirlers will display their skill to several of the band numbers. The program will close with Miss Betty Peatrice portraying the Statue of Liberty while the band plays "The Star Spangled Banner". Frank Bennett will act as master-of-ceremonies.

Annual concerts have become a tradition in the music department. A large audience is expected to attend.

W. L. B. TO TAKE UP COAL WAGE PARLEY AGAIN

dynamite. A confusion of statements and reports already were beginning to fray nerves.

President Roosevelt indicated clearly that Lewis would be forced to submit his case to the WLB. Lewis, who was given authority to seize and operate the mines on Saturday, made the same statement flatly.

Contrast To Reports
This was in contrast to reported assurances given to the miners in New York that Lewis had power to write and sign a new wage contract. This much was inferred by Lewis in his New York announcement calling off the strike.

Sources close to Lewis reported, too, that Lewis had given the mine workers president promises that the miners would get substantial wage boosts. However, Lewis yesterday denied emphatically that he and Lewis had made any deal at the secret Sunday conference in Washington which preceded the end of the strike.

In New York, Lewis asserted that he appeared at the Sunday meeting "at the request of government officials." In Washington, sources close to Lewis claimed that Lewis himself had asked for the parley.

It was admitted, however, that he was the one who suggested the truce.

May Threaten New Strike
Lewis also insisted that the wage negotiations must be carried out between the operators and miners themselves before the WLB. It was possible that Lewis would threaten a new strike if Lewis returns the mines to the coal companies without the miners gaining a pay victory. This may force the government to operate the mines for the duration although Lewis said that he wanted to turn them back to their owners as soon as possible.

The interior secretary ordered operation of the mines on a six-day week, with time and one half overtime for the sixth day. It was tantamount to a $2.25 a day wage increase for the miners although they have to put in an extra day to get it. On the other hand, about 85 percent of the mines had been operating on a six day basis for some time.

The wage negotiations starting before the WLB tomorrow cover only the 450,000 miners in the soft coal fields. At a later date, the WLB will take up the case of 90,000 anthracite miners. The WLB hearings will be conducted by a three-man panel.

Bundles' Change Name At Meeting

Local Bundles For America, Inc., Will Be Known As "Bundles From New Castle, Pa."

On Tuesday afternoon, a group of ladies who have been working together in New Castle as members of Bundles for America, Inc., assembled in their headquarters on East street, and decided to call themselves Bundles from New Castle, Pa.

The idea of the organization is to help locally in keeping our home morale built up during the war period by giving aid with salvaged, cleaned, re-conditioned and new clothing, wherever a competent investigator shows the board the need, also to send bundles abroad to the needy countries, our allies and some of the occupied countries. To help as a group with war efforts is their purpose, and if furniture is needed, to collect it and have it repaired and put to use again.

The dissolving of Bundles for America, Inc., and the reorganizing into what will be known as Bundles from New Castle, Pa., resulted on action taken at a meeting held here on Tuesday, April 27 called for Bundles for America, Inc., at which time there was a discussion of rules and regulations sent from headquarters in New York.

Almost all independence of action was to be taken away from local branches. A certain percentage of all receipts was to be taken from all branches and used for expenses of the New York office. All members were to be charged a $2.00 per year, and the bank account to be kept in New York and bills paid from there. All the local officers resigned as they did not wish to continue working in that way.

As it is Bundles from New Castle, Pa., will continue and no membership fees are to be charged. Instead members are those who agree to contribute of money and time.

Well, the question may be asked, considering that these affairs primarily are press conferences, why don't the lawmakers read the newspapers and thus find out what's asked and answered in the privacy of journalistic hushaboo?

Ah, that's exactly why I remarked, above, that the senators aren't particularly complimentary to the correspondents' aggregation in insisting on overhearing all that they ask and are told. They simply are skeptical that the boys print everything that they find out.

There's ground for this suspicion. A scribe who, scaring up some confidential facts, and publishing 'em, against official warnings to the contrary, is due to find himself on the outer doorstep the next time he visits that sanctum for more news.

The fact is that, generally speaking, the executive and legislative branches of the government are, to one another, as hostile as the dickens in times of emergency. The press is the liaison between 'em and they're both suspicious of it.

We know how reluctant the executive crew has been to advance concerning the ante-post-war discussions of late.

(Like that food conference, for instance.)

Well, the apprehension naturally was that they'd be unskillfully publicized.

Is that a compliment to our press? Congress manifestly stands pat for journalism versus officialdom. But does it stand pat enough?

USES Offices To Aid WMC Problem

Regional War Manpower Office Will Streamline Local Employment Office Functions

(Special To The News)
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 5.—To apply home rule and business administration principles to decentralized War Manpower Commission operations, Louis B. F. Raveroff, regional manpower director, has announced that 15 WMC area offices and 47 local U. S. Employment Service offices in less concentrated districts must carry the burden on manpower needs on a strictly local basis.
Raveroff's announcement follows his action in setting up 15 area WMC organizations, headed by area directors, and nine WMC districts, to handle less acute manpower problems.
District directors will supervise 47 local USES offices in their efforts to meet a demand for 160,000 men and women for expanded war production and selective service replacements, while the area directors are charged with the responsibility of meeting a selective service and war production demand for 558,000 men and women.
A. Allen Suloway has been appointed deputy state director of the USES for Pennsylvania to administer areas and districts in the western part of the state.
Centralized direction of local operations will involve "a streamlining process" which Raveroff said will not impair in the slightest the individuality of the state offices of the USES.
Regional Manpower Director Raveroff announced that he had discussed the change of state divisions fully with Governors Martin, Edison and Bacon and that state administrative staffs have endorsed the plan to center functions of the USES divisions of Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and Maryland in the regional office in Philadelphia.

Davies May Go To Moscow On Special Mission For FDR

Rumored That Stalin May Be Invited To Conference With Roosevelt, Churchill

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, May 5.—Reports were current in diplomatic circles in Washington Tuesday that Joseph E. Davies, former American ambassador to Russia, may soon proceed to Moscow on a special mission for President Roosevelt.
It is believed that the purpose of such a mission would be to extend another invitation to Soviet Premier Joseph Stalin to confer with President Roosevelt, and possibly British Prime Minister Winston Churchill.
The state department and Davies' household refused to confirm or deny the reports that he may go to Russia soon. However, it was intimated in authoritative quarters that the possibility of sending him has been under consideration.
Davies, who served as ambassador to Moscow from 1936 to 1938, is known to be well liked by the Soviet government. He is on extremely friendly relations with Soviet Ambassador Maxim Litvinov, who is returning to Moscow shortly to report to his government.
It is considered not unlikely that Davies may be sent to Russia while Litvinov is there. The view prevails widely in diplomatic circles that if any American could persuade Stalin to meet President Roosevelt, Davies would be the man.
American officials make no secret of the fact that the president and Churchill are eager to confer with Stalin on political problems relating to the war and the post-war period.

Lions Club Hears Reports On Bonds

Almost $300,000 Worth Sold By Club Teams During Recent Campaign

Lions club members had a business session at their weekly meeting, Tuesday noon, in The Castle-ton, when reports of various committees were presented.
The four teams of the Lions club sold almost $300,000 worth of bonds in the war bond sale which was conducted during the month of April. Reports show that a total of $288,563, which is not complete, J. A. Leslie's team sold a total of $77,263.25. Earl Williams' team was second with $68,956. Dick Wilson's team reported $60,909.50, and Harry Helmick's team had $56,454.25, although the latter team has an additional amount to be credited to them, it is stated.
The campaign was ended on the basis of the above report, and Helmick's team had to eat soup, out of vari-colored sized and shaped dishes as a penalty.
The Sight Saving Seal campaign brought in $560.50, it was reported. This will be used in work among the blind. Three pairs of glasses were bought this month, it was reported.
The club purchased two $100 bonds, series F, with the money that was saved from usual expenditures on social activities.
One new member, E. W. Leary, of the Aluminum Company of America was admitted.

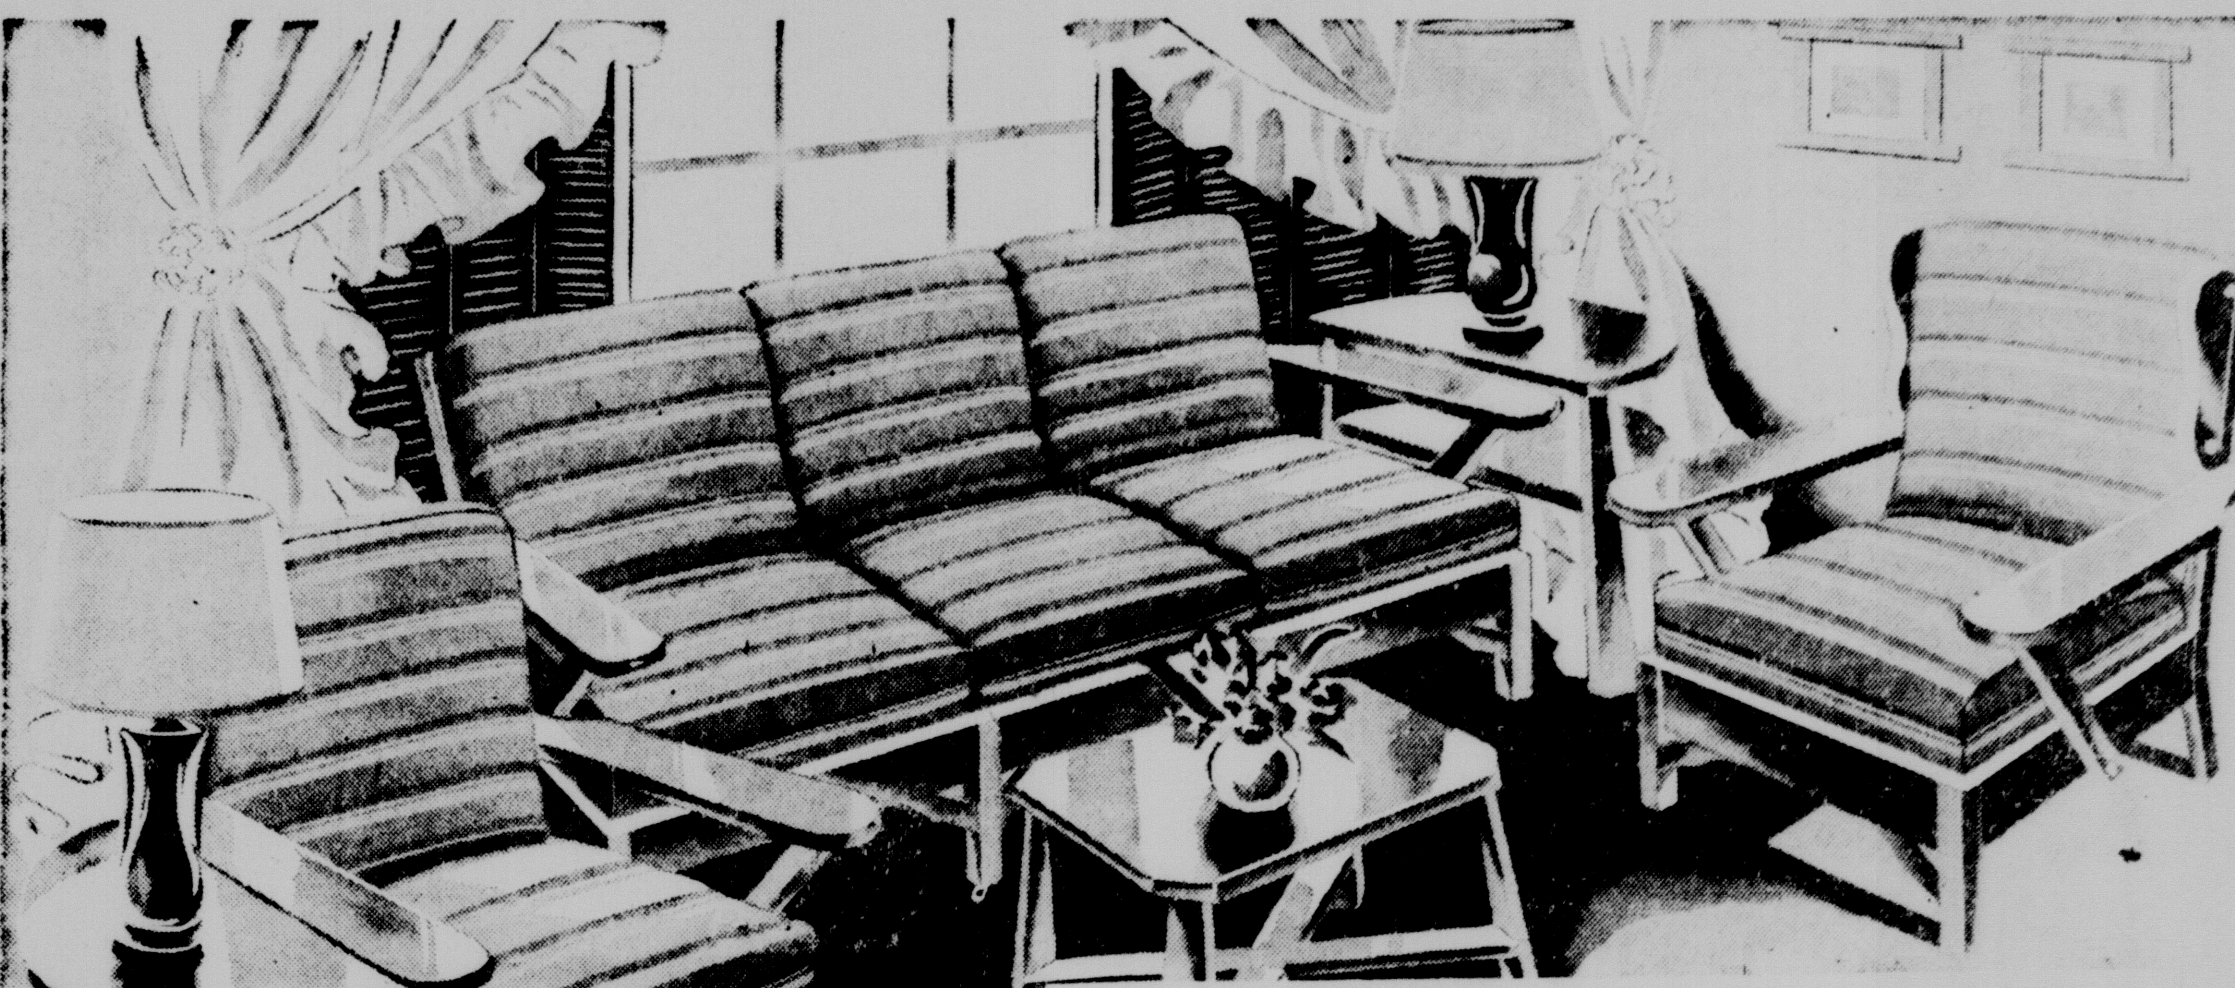

Air Mail Service Is 25 Years Old

HARRISBURG, May 5.—Dr. Francis B. Haas, superintendent of public instruction, today recalled to school officials the twenty-fifth anniversary of the inauguration of the United States Air Mail service on May 16, 1918.
Dr. Haas said that while the actual anniversary occurred on Saturday, May 15, the following day had been designated for any activities marking the anniversary so that week-day war work would encounter no interference. The superintendent called attention to the commemoration with the thought that some schools might wish to observe either Friday, the 14th or Monday, the 17th, with some fitting exercises having to do with the outstanding work being carried out by the Air Transport Command, the Naval Air Transport Service and the United States commercial airlines in the war.

VICTORY GARDEN NOTES

(By LEWIS C. DAYTON)
(County Farm Agent)

LIMA BEANS
In a home garden where ample space is available lima beans will be a very much appreciated vegetable, but the small yields generally obtained, about 9 or 10 quarts of shelled beans from 100 feet or row often prove disappointing to people who have planted only a few feet of row. If any quantity of lima beans is needed for canning or freezing, ample space must be provided for 200 to 300 feet of row.
The best variety of bush lima bean for home garden use is the Fordhook, a large-seeded and high-quality variety which requires a rather long season and is sometimes difficult to get to come through the ground if the soil is heavy. Pole lima beans produce heavier yields but are more trouble to grow.

Lima beans should be planted only after danger of frost is past, from May 20 to June 1 for the pole varieties and up to June 10 for the bush types. The bush beans are planted 6 inches apart in rows 24 to 30 inches apart. The pole varieties are planted in hills 3 to 4 feet apart with 3 or 4 plants in a hill.
Lima beans are more exacting as to soil and fertilizer requirements than field or snap beans. A mellow soil is needed and somewhat more fertility is required. A neutral or alkaline soil is preferable.

Enemy Sub Activity To Be Investigated

Sub-Group Of House Naval Affairs Committee To Probe 'Most Critical Problem'

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 5.—Rep. Vinson (D-Ga.), chairman of the House Naval Affairs Committee, announced Tuesday that he would appoint a sub-group to investigate ship sinkings by enemy submarines, termed by the committee "the most critical problem facing the nation today."
Vinson's decision came after Rep. Cole (R-N.Y.), pointed out that the Senate Truman Committee had been informed that more ships had been sunk by submarines in a recent period than were coming off the ways of American shipyards.
Rep. Maas (R-Minn.), ranking minority member of the committee, joined in Cole's request for committee action, saying:
"This is certainly the most critical problem facing the nation today."
Vinson also said that his committee is sending questionnaires to every shipbuilding company in the United States asking for specific costs and profit figures on each ship produced.

Health Talks

Fresh fruits and vegetables contain vitamins.
We buy them to get these vitamins.
We lose a lot of the vitamins in cooking.
What should we do about it?
Use a small amount of water.
Have the water boiling when the vegetable is put in.
Do not cook too long.
Use the cooking water, it has goodies in it.
It is a good idea to cook just enough for each meal. Warmed over foods lose most of their vitamins.
Drop the potatoes in the boiling water as soon as they are pared. Serve as soon as possible after they are cooked. Boiling things a long time does not make them more digestible. The time to eat them is when they are tender enough.
Poor old Dad is out spading up the ground to raise these vitamins for Mom to throw out in the potato water.

Westminster Student Sets Up Farm Office

College Sophomore Voluntary Farm Placement WMC Representative On Campus

Miss Nancy Slinker, Westminster college sophomore from New Kensington, has been appointed voluntary farm placement representative for New Wilmington and the surrounding district for the United States Employment Service office of the War Manpower Commission, A. S. Priscaro, farm placement representative of the local office, announced today.
Miss Slinker is setting up an office on the Westminster campus where she will act as coordinator to assist with farm work and for farmers in the New Wilmington area who need help, Mr. Priscaro said.
He pointed out that farm work is a type of work that people who wish to help out do not have to give up their regular work to do. "Those who may be able to give only a few hours a day should contact Miss Slinker," he said.
Under present arrangements workers are assured transportation to farms where there is work to be done.

THIS MAN THINKS WE'RE CRAZY BECAUSE WE'RE ASKING PEOPLE TO CUT DOWN ON LONG DISTANCE CALLS

"I READ YOUR ADS," he says. "You ask people not to make unnecessary Long Distance calls and to keep all calls brief. What's the idea? Handling calls is your business, isn't it?"

Yes, sir, it is. But right now our first objective is to help win the war.

This country needs good, fast, dependable telephone service to speed the whole war effort. Long Distance lines are jammed with calls—especially on circuits to the big war centers.

Copper has gone to war, so we can't build all the new circuits we need. That means that we must S-T-R-E-T-C-H our facilities. Everybody must share the lines.

"Now I get it," he says. "What can I do to help?"

Will Reinstate Pay Increases

Teachers Pay Bill To Be Re- stored To Original In- crease Rates

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, May 5—House-approved salary brackets for increased teachers' salaries were to be reinstated in the Corder-Hare bill today after having been pared by approximately $3,000,000 in the senate at the administration's request.

As the measure now stands, teachers will receive "cost-of-living" pay boosts on a $200 to $600 biennial scale with the lower-paid teachers benefiting the most. Though the administration agreed to retain the original brackets, it succeeded, however, in reducing the total raise by $2,000,000.

A joint committee which met with Gov. Edward Martin yesterday found that the dwindling number of teachers made it possible to allow only $24,300,000 instead of the house-approved $26,300,000 for the pay increases.

Rep. Paul L. Wagner (R) Schuylkill explained that "the original estimate of cost was based on the number of teachers in service in 1941-42, but we find our re-survey shows that the school population is dwindling so rapidly during the war that the number of teachers also is decreasing in proportion."

Sen. Fred L. Homsher (R) Lancaster said that "there has been a drop of 1118 teachers since the 1941-42 survey." Asked whether he believed the house would approve the new figure he said: "That's the amount of money available and it must be agreed to."

April Was Colder Than Customary

Difference Of Ten Degrees Per Day Shown Between April This Year And Last

April was colder than the average, figures of U. S. Weather Observer B. F. Johnson reveal, the temperature being 39 degrees below the normal, and ten degrees colder per day than April was in 1942. There was also more snow this year than last.

The mean maximum temperature was 57.1 degrees, the mean minimum, 32 degrees and mean or average, 44.5 degrees. The highest was 79 degrees on the 1st and the lowest was 18 degrees on the 7th. Last year the highest temperature was 90 degrees, and the lowest was 20 degrees. Last year, the average temperature was 61 degrees above the normal.

The total precipitation for the month was 3.69 inches, 27 inches above the normal. Last year, it was 1.19 inches below the normal. Total snowfall was 5.9 inches, against 12 inches last year. Days with .01 or more inches of rainfall were 13, days with .25 inches or more being 5, with the greatest in 24 hours being .74 inches on the 12th. There were 14 days during the month when the temperature went below 32 degrees. Days clear were six, partly cloudy, 12; and cloudy, 10.

Nine A. M. Is 'Too Early For Senators'

Government News Policy Probe Stalemated By Stimson's Early Press Conference

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 5—Protocol and an "hour too early for senators" on Tuesday threw a statement into the senate judiciary committee's investigation of government news policy.

"Secretary of War Stimson says he'll gladly have the full committee come down to the war department for his press conference," said Sen. Van Nuys (D) Ind., chairman of the committee. "And I'm afraid I could get only a handful of Senators together at 9 a. m. when Mr. Stimson meets with the press."

Added to the committee's troubles, Van Nuys said, was the fact that Secretary of the Navy Knox, according to rules of protocol, can't be heard until after Mr. Stimson testifies.

SHOE STAMP MUST BE IN RATION BOOK

Retail shoe merchants have again asked the Pittsburgh District Office of Price Administration to remind consumers that No. 17 shoe stamps are not acceptable if detached from War Ration Book I unless they accompany a mail order.

Shoe retailers are finding that many purchasers are coming into stores to buy shoes with No. 17 stamp detached from War Ration Book I. The OPA again warns purchasers that unless shoes are ordered by mail, No. 17 stamp must remain in the book to be detached only by the person selling the shoes.

STREET WORKERS TO REVAMP POOL AT CASCADE PARK
City officials have assigned to the street department the task of remodeling the bathing pool at Cascade Park because it is hoped to have the pool open Memorial day when the recreation center formally opens.
Plans have been made to use city water in the pool this year and the remodeling of the pool will save 5,000,000 gallons, according to City Engineer John Z. Street.
The wading pool will remain as it is, likewise the circular pool or the deep pool where the diving board is located. However, the large south end pool will be revamped by the construction of a circular cement wall which will leave a space 80x100 for bathing. A concrete sidewalk will be built in front of the bath-house and a similar "walk" to reach the pools will be built.
It was not known this morning when the bridge to the pool would be erected, the old one having been condemned.

SUGGEST JAPANESE FLAG BE ELIMINATED

The flag appears in a 12-foot panel painted by Violet Oakley marking the opening of Japan to foreign trade by Commander Oliver Hazard Perry 100 years ago.

Saga Revealed

Yanks "Come Back From Dead" After Being Missing For Months

ONE NAVY FLIER; NINE FROM ARMY

By JACK MAHON

(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

AN ADVANCED BASE IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC, April 29—(Delayed)—Ten American heroes, nine of them army men and one from the navy, have come back from the dead to add a new blood-stained saga of survival to the Star-Spangled history of the war in the Solomons.

These men, all fliers, though wounded, blistered and bleeding after being cruelly cut by coral, returned safely to Guadalcanal recently after an adventure similar to that of Robinson Crusoe.

The navy man, 21-year-old Delmar D. Wiley, third class radioman of Glenwood, Iowa, had been reported missing in action since last August 24.

The army boys comprised the crew of a Flying Fortress known as "My Lovin' Dove" which crumpled into the Pacific last Feb. 9 about 600 miles north of Guadalcanal. They had left the island on a routine search mission.

Wiley had been missing 233 days while his army pals were lost for 66.

The Fortress crew drifted for 15 and a half days on life rafts, snatched from their ship, which had been shot up by an octet of Jap Zero fighters who charged out of the sun to gang up on her. After drifting with the currents for 643 miles, the nine luckily maneuvered their rafts through treacherous coral and staggered ashore on a small group of five islands just across a strait from a heavily manned Jap base.

The rest of the story, including their amazing meeting with Wiley is a fantastic epic and a tale of commonsense pooling of resources, incredible good luck and a heaping dose of raw courage.

The all-star cast of "My Lovin' Dove," which they watched drown in the ocean, included Captain Thomas J. Classen, 24, of West Des Moines, Wis., the pilot, Lieut. Ernest C. Ruiz, 24, of Santa Barbara, Cal., Lieut. Robert J. Dorwart, 24, of North Seattle, Wash., Lieut. Bal-four C. Gibson, 28, of Berkeley, Cal., Sgt. William H. Nichols, 24, of Keiser, Ark., and Sgt. Robert J. Turnbull, 27, of San Antonio, Tex.

Capt. Classen took the ship well up north of Guadalcanal when it was attacked. The guns manned by Nichols, Turnbull, Dorwart and Gibson shot down two Japs but two engines of the Fortress failed and the oil tank was shredded.

Capit. Classen, blood streaming through his handkerchief clutched in his teeth, ordered a crash landing on the sea. Perfect teamwork resulted in inflation of two rafts, one of which was jammed with the men and the other loaded with emergency rations. A minute after they had shoved free the plane sank and their agony began.

Their pistols became useless in three days because of action of the salt water. On the sixth day a storm upset the raft carrying provisions and knives.

At twilight on the 15th day Classen spotted land and at 3 a. m. the men staggered ashore, all weak and some semi-hysterical. They were welcomed by a native tribe.

Shortly after they were joined by Wiley who thought the Fortress men were a rescue party searching for him. He explained that he and the pilot of a Grumman Avenger torpedo plane had taken off from a carrier August 24 to attack a cruiser. The plane was set upon by Zeros. The pilot was killed and Wiley received a severe leg wound before the plane went into the sea. He drifted for 15 days before reaching land.

From Wiley the islanders learned the first news of the war.

Urge Families To Plant Every Acre

James E. Walker, chairman of the State War board of the United States Department of Agriculture, has issued an urgent "last minute" call to Pennsylvania farmers to plant the largest possible acreage to food crops and feed for livestock for 1943.

This appeal was made in response to a statement issued by War Fund Administrator Chester C. Davis to all farmers and representatives of the War Food Administration to obtain the greatest possible planted acres of essential crops before the planting season ends.

In his statement appealing to farmers to raise the greatest acreage of crops possible, Administrator Davis pointed out that "this is the most important planting season in American farm history." He urged that it is still possible to increase the number of acres planted before it is too late.

Seek Substitute For Income Tax Amendment Now

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 5.—The House today approved a resolution petitioning congress to call a constitutional convention to repeal the 16th amendment on income taxes and substitute another amendment which would "soak the poor."

The measure was approved 127 to 75, with democrats voting against it. Sponsored by Rep. Harry E. Trout (R) Lancaster, it now goes to the senate for concurrence.

"The people of the state of Pennsylvania are greatly interested in the passage of legislation now pending in Congress to repeal the 16th amendment and to amend the constitution relative to taxes on incomes, gifts and inheritances and providing for a limitation of taxes thereon," the resolution states.

The resolution would substitute for the 16th amendment another amendment restricting income taxes to 25 per cent of personal income and 57 per cent of corporate income. Pennsylvania has a corporation income tax but none on personal income.

The house also adopted a concurrent resolution petitioning congress to create an army pharmacy corps. Another resolution approved directed the legislative reference bureau to distribute to school children pamphlets containing the declaration of Independence and the United States and Pennsylvania Constitutions.

Fourteen Enemy Supply Ships Are Sunk By Allies

(International News Service)

LONDON, May 5.—Royal Air force planes operating in the Mediterranean sank 14 enemy supply ships from April 22 to May 1, an official commentator revealed today. Twenty others were set on fire and ten other craft, including two destroyers and one cruiser, damaged.

From April 3 to the end of the month, 193 enemy transport planes were destroyed representing the loss of 6,000 fully equipped troops, he said.

The German air force is now outnumbered on the Mediterranean, western European and British fronts 3 to 1 by the R.A.F., alone, he said, and this excludes the United States army air force operating from England and elsewhere.

Full Major League Card Lures Only 15,526 Fans

Browns-Tigers Lure 647 Fans; Buccos Triumph

Meagre Attendances Further Worry Moguls; Indians Edge White Sox, 2-1

FANS CONTINUE IGNORING PARKS

By JOHN CASHMAN
(International News Service Writer)
NEW YORK, May 5.—The relieved grins with which major league managers watched about 170,000 pile turbulently through the turnstiles Sunday are now worried frowns. After Sunday's brief respite from sickeningly meagre attendances, yesterday's figures 15,526 for a full schedule in both leagues showed another shocking collapse.

Only 647 watched the Detroit Tigers edge out a 4 to 3 victory over the St. Louis Browns with the Browns sending out a parade of four pitchers to the mound. Al Hollingsworth gave up seven hits in less than two innings, and was relieved by Paul Dean, Sid Pison and George Caster followed Dean in that order. Hollingsworth was tabbed for the loss.

Giants Sink Again
Exactly 1,002 watched the Boston Braves whip the New York Giants, 5 to 3. The Giants are losing fast, not only in the box office but on the ball field. When they were conquered by Jim Tobin's flut-ter-ball yesterday, it marked the Giants' sixth loss in seven games.

One of the biggest crowds of the day, 3,500, watched the Philadelphia Phillies humble the Brooklyn Dodgers, 3 to 1, in the season's first tightest and thereby having a tale Dodgers Prexy Branch Rickey is conducting a survey in New York City to ascertain the starting time preferable to the majority. Whether his findings will help to keep his attendance figures far enough for the Dodgers to break even this year will not be known for a week, but this is the major's latest move against abandonment of ball parks.

Although Jesse Flores, of the Philadelphia Athletics, has yielded out three runs in 31 2-3 innings of work, he practically pitched in private yesterday when his three-hit hurling led the A's to a 3 to 1 win over the Washington Senators. All of 1,234 saw Flores' second victory in three starts.

A gathering of 3,908 saw the St. Louis Cardinals smash the Chicago Cubs, 11 to 3, with 15 hits, Whitey Kurowski led the Cards in the hitting offensive, with a home run and two singles. Four Cubs pitchers marched to the mound but failed to stem the Cards tide, marking the fifth straight defeat for Chicago.

Vince DiMaggio whacked out a homer to lead the Pittsburgh Pirates to an 8 to 3 win over the Cincinnati Reds. The Pirates established an early lead before 1,683 fans, and kept it all the way.

Less than 2,000 watched Jim Bagby yield but five hits to pitch the Cleveland Indians into a 2 to 1 decision over the Chicago White Sox. Manager Lou Boudreau won his own game by singling in Oris Hockett with the deciding run.

About 1,600 frosted Bostonians watched the New York Yankees nip the Boston Red Sox, 4 to 3. Yankee third baseman Bill Johnson committed an early error that almost cost his club the game, but poled out single in the ninth inning, advanced to third on a bingle by Ken Sears, then, with two out, crossed the plate dramatically on Johnny Lindell's short fly to center.

There was everything yesterday: The Yankees' Bill Johnson wiping out a costly error with a winning run; the Giants' sixth loss in seven games; the Browns' parade of pitchers; Flores' magnificent work for the A's and Boudreau winning his own game for the Indians. Yet, an average of only a little over 1,800 were there to applaud or boo.

DISCUS SLIPS; HITS ATHLETE

Struck below the groin by a discus, during yesterday afternoon's inter-class track meet at Taggart stadium, William "Bill" Baites, aged 18, of 1019 West North street extension, was removed to the Jameson Memorial hospital last night for an X-ray.

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner, of New Castle high, said that the boy, a contestant in the meet and who was a bystander at the time of the mishap, was hurt when the circular plate slipped from the hand of one of the participants who was preparing to hurl it.

The young man, a member of the Senior B track troupe, sustained internal injuries which are not believed to be serious.

N. D. GRIDDERS WORK AND WAIT

(International News Service)
SOUTH BEND, Ind., May 5.—Five Notre Dame varsity football players are working in South Bend defense plants in addition to their studies while they await their call to active duty and a sixth is temporarily employed before reporting to the navy.

The five are Wally Ziemba, center; Lou Rymkus, left tackle; Harry Wright, right guard; Jim White, left tackle, and Bernie Meter, left guard. All but White are in the Marines awaiting call. White is in the Navy V-7 deck officers' deachment.

The sixth, George Tobin, of Arlington, Mass., star sophomore guard last fall, has been ordered to report to DePaul University to begin his preliminary training in naval aviation.

(International News Service)
DETROIT, May 5.—James V. Orlando, 28-year-old Red Wing hockey star of Detroit, will be tried before Federal Judge Edward J. Moineau on a charge of violating the selective Service Act on June 30, it was announced today.

Orlando was arrested during the Stanley Cup playoff series after FBI agents charged he was listed as a machine-operator in a Detroit war plant while working in the office.

Junior B's Lead Inter-Class Meet

Pile Up 44 Points To March Ahead; Junior A's Second With 29 Tallies

EVENT TO END THIS AFTERNOON

By sweeping five firsts, the talented Junior B's marched ahead in New Castle high's two-day inter-class track spin, Monday afternoon at Taggart stadium.

The annual carnival closes this afternoon. The thinclads will resume their spirited battle starting at 4 o'clock.

Tally 44 Points

As dusk prepared to spread its blanket over the east side sports plant, Robert Mills, official scorer, announced that the Junior B's led the field with 44 points. The Junior A's are pressing for the lead with 29 markers, followed by the Senior B's with 15. The Sophomore A's hold down the fourth slot with 13. Then come the Sophomore B's with 11, and the Senior A's with four.

Husky Tony Razzano, the football-basketball star, notched first place in the shot put and discus throw to top the Junior B scores. The Junior A's kept in the race by snatching first in the 100-yard dash and the 880-yard relay and points in practically all events.

Deli Century Winner

Louis Deli broke the yarn first in the century with a disappointing time of 11:2 seconds. Jim Falk followed Deli across the finish line. Steve Waslewski, the highly touted southsider, came through as expected in the mile run. He covered the distance in 4:32.9.

The high jump went to Francis Valley, of the Junior B's, and Jack Nixon, of the Junior A's, who were stymied at the five feet two inch mark. The half mile relay, won by the Junior A's, proved one of the most exciting contests of the day. Standout performances were missing. Officials, however, predict a few startling exhibitions today.

Track Events

800-yard relay: Won by Junior A (Newman, Nixon, Barker, Deli); Junior B (Campbell, Fleece, Mosley, Razzano); second: Sophomore B (DeVido, Pittaway, Gabriel, Garberry); third: Senior B (Jackson, Lewis, Rowland, McPeak); fourth: Time 1:45.8.

Sports Ramblings

Sports Varieties:—

Social note:—Chief-of-Police Archie Shoup, of Bessemer, has informed me that his son, Archie, Jr., who is living one of Uncle Sam's planes, will say "I do" about the first of next month. The localite is "out West" and the gal is a Californian. Track date:—George Washington and Mahoning junior high have a track competition at Taggart stadium's oval on next Monday afternoon. Rees Flannery directs the Seventh ward slag grinders while Art Alexander is the North hiller's chieftan.

It's a small world, etc.—In a letter to Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner, of New Castle high, Norm Peters, the Cadet quarterback in '41 and currently of the U. S. Marines at San Diego, California, writes that he was idling about and ran across another Leatherneck. The pair chatted casually about this and that. Peters remarked that he hailed from New Castle. His buddy said he was from Massillon. Peters quickly asked, "do you know Bobby Glass, Massillon's famous football player?" "Yes," was the reply. "I'm Bobby Glass."

Basketball tidbit:—Westminster's cage team may play Long Island in Madison Square Garden next spring. The Titans, according to word trickling this way, have been queried regarding a game. As yet, the blue and white moguls haven't declined or accepted. Westminster met and lost to the Blackbirds three years ago. Conservation item:—Coach A. G. Capezzuti, ex-Bessemer mentor and now guiding East Liverpool's football fortunes, was in a dither last December when rains flooded Patterson stadium, damaging grid accomtment. With so much rain coming down lately, "Cappy" hauled the togs to a second story!

Wee-bits about this and that:—Early Wynn, Washington Senator pitcher, reported for spring training 15 pounds underweight. He spent the winter months driving a dynamite truck. That could have been the reason. Figuring that hitting talent is way off this season, Manager "Lip" Durocher predicts that Wyatt, Higbe and Head will win 60 games for him this year. In 1942, the Dodgers' trio rolled up 45 triumphs. Bing Crosby has sold nine of his race horses to two Mexican track enthusiasts for about $13,000. He can really sing in peace now.

Bucs' Sewell Sets Pace With 3 Wins

Truett (Rip) Sewell

(By Central Press)
PITTSBURGH, May 5.—Truett Banks (Rip) Sewell, ace righthander of the Pittsburgh Pirates, has broken out in front in the race for pitching supremacy this year and may be on his way to his best season in 12 years in the paid sport.

In the opener, Rip zipped his pitches past the Cubs to win, 6 to 0, limiting the Chicagoans to three bingles. He took the Cubs again April 5. In his third appearance, Rip again recorded a mark in the victory column against the Cubs.

Seventh Season
This is Sewell's seventh season in the National league, all of which have been spent with the Pirates. Last year he took part in 39 games, winning 14 and losing 17. His best year was in 1941 when he recorded 16 victories against five defeats, Time 1:45.8.

Minor Traveler
Then followed a tour to Toronto and Beaumont. From the Detroit Tiger farm at Beaumont, Sewell hopped to the Detroit club for a look-see near the tag end of the 1932 season. It was no go and Sewell was on the go again. This time Rip wound up with Seattle of the Pacific Coast league.

Three more jumps in the minor league circuit and then Sewell went to Pittsburgh. The three minor league towns were Toledo, Louisville and Buffalo.

Hammerin' Henry Turns Down Bout
CHICAGO, May 5.—Henry Armstrong, former welterweight champion, has turned down an offer to head a boxing show in Chicago May 20 or 24. It was learned today.

After two weeks of futile negotiations in New York, Jack Hurley, Chicago matchmaker, announced Armstrong would not sign to box either Al "Bummy" Davis, Carmen Notch or Maxie Shapfro.

LAFAYETTE GRANTS HOOK MYLIN LEAVE
EASTON, Pa., May 5.—Edward (Hook) Mylin, Lafayette grid boss since 1937, has been granted a leave of absence for the duration.

Mylin requested the leave to enter the armed forces.

HEFTY KID
Ed Hanzewski is only a kid pitcher with the Cubs, but he had to cut his weight 21 pounds to please Manager Jimmie Wilson.

GEHRINGER OUT WEST
OAKLAND, Calif.—Lieut. Charles Gehringer, former Detroit star, is assigned to the Naval Pre-Flight school at Saint Mary's college.

Paul Dean's blizest years in the majors were 1934 and in 1935. Dean, now with the St. Louis Browns, won 19 games each season.

Irish Athletes Draw Eyes Of Washington Redskins; Evans To Bears

(International News Service)
SOUTH BEND, Ind., May 5.—Notre Dame will be well represented in professional football ranks when the Axis powers are defeated.

In the recent National Football League draft meeting, Wally Ziemba, center; Lou Rymkus, tackle; Harry Wright, guard, and Bob Dove, end, were claimed by the world champion Washington Redskins. These four boys, along with Steve Juzewski, halfback, and John Kovach, end, make a heavy Notre Dame representation with the Redskins.

Bob Neff, tackle, went to Philadelphia in the draft, while Dick Creevy and Owen "Dippy" Evans, halfbacks, went to the Chicago Bears. Evans, however, has one more season of competition with the Irish before turning to the professional ranks.

Hagg Must Run In Army Benefit Or Just Sit Out

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, May 5.—Dan Ferris, the operating head of the A. A. U. made it plain today that if the great Swedish track star Gunder Hagg appears in this country he will do so in a benefit for the army air forces aid society.

Ferris was positive that Hagg would either appear at the air force benefit or "won't run at all in the United States."

Hagg recently was reported as saying he would run in this country, but that since Sweden is neutral he would not take part in events for war agencies.

"There is no obstacle in the way of Hagg's coming," Ferris said. "I do not expect any further communication from him until he steps off the plane in this country. Transportation has been provided. It is up to Hagg."

Ferris said Hagg understood he would compete in the national championships and that the air forces aid society would benefit. He said Hagg would not be permitted to run under professional promotion. Ferris said by "professional promotion" he meant track meets in which there would be no public accounting of the funds, such as is necessary when they are conducted for war agencies.

College Coaches Directing Cadets At Westminster

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, May 5.—Westminster's Athletic Department has taken charge of the physical training program for the Navy Air Cadets, stationed on the campus.

Besides looking after the regular gym classes of these students, Coaches Grover Washburn and Dave Boyd supervise the gym program for 80 cadets.

Class periods, which last 80 minutes each, are scheduled six days a week. Swimming is stressed more than any other sport and the cadets are required to take three swimming classes during the week.

In the other three classes they are put into shape through various gym exercises. The program includes stiff calisthenics, running, going over the obstacle course, shadow boxing, volleyball, softball, and basketball.

Paul Brown Says Next Grid Season Will Be Frivolous

Manpower Key Problem. Mentor Asserts; Ohio State Loses 21 Grid-ders

BUCKEYES PLAN TC KEEP GOING

(International News Service)
COLUMBUS, O., May 5.—Coach Paul Brown of Ohio State University's national gridiron champion believes the next football season will be "haphazard."

By haphazard, Brown apparently was referring to the manpower situation. Upon taking the football squad outdoors, the former Massillon high school coach had 33 hopefuls, including only eight members of last year's Big Ten champions.

"We'll keep going as long as we can put 11 men on the field," the youthful coach asserted.

When Brown opened spring drills a few weeks ago, he had some 54 candidates, but in nine practice sessions lost 21 players, all to the armed forces.

Would Have 39
But for the war, the Buckeyes would have 39 veterans returning from a year's championship squad, and undoubtedly would be the hot-shot favorite for national honors next fall.

Although Brown isn't sure how long he'll have them, the eight members of last year's squad are Center Gordon Appleby, Guard Bob Jabusch, Tackles Jack Dugger and Bill Willis, Ends Cecil Souders and Don Stenberger, Quarterback Paul Selby and Halfback Les Horvath.

Thomson Dixon, a lineman who ended a three-year career at Ohio State under Brown last year, may also be available under present Big Ten rules permitting athletes four years' service. He and Horvath are in dental college, exempt from military call as members of reserve forces.

NEW YORK, May 3.—Quick pickups:

Don Cameron, Count Fleet's trainer, asked $30,000 to $1,000 that the Count would take racing's triple crown, which as you know, is the Derby, the Preakness and the Belmont stakes... no takers.

James J. Johnston, the famed boy gambler of Broadway, warns us he now has a fighter in his stable who shows signs of being better than Jim Driscoll, Owen Moran and Johnny Dundee combined. The new fighter's name is Ham! (Ham) Wilcox, 22-year-old, naturalized American from port of Spain, Trinidad. Nobody knows better than Johnston how tough it is going to be for Ham to live up to that statement. It was J. J. who managed all three of these battles: Driscoll, the great English featherweight champ; Moran, the only man ever to knock out Battling Nelson, and the super-rugged Johnny Dundee, former holder of two world titles.

If Ham is half the fighter that just one of these men was, that will be enough for us, in these talent-starved times.

Dodgers Handcuffed

Something has happened, egad to the great reserve fund of batting power supposed to be possessed by the Brooklyn Dodgers. Three of their power-hitters are handcuffed. Dixie Walker going into yesterday's game with an average of .268; Dolph Camilli with .290 and Joe Mewshaw with .196. Both Walker and Camilli showed signs of snapping out of it, however, Camilli leading the 12-hit attack on the Phillies with three safeties, and Walker pounding out two hits.

There are some guys who just can't be whipped. Clark Griffith, the grand old man to end all grand old men in baseball, insists that the Washington Senators will double their paid attendance of 1942. Of course, as he was saying this there were 32,000 fans hustling through the gates under his bright gaze for the double-header with the Yankees. In addition to which, Washington is leading all cities for major league attendance.

Still Questionable

But baseball has some way to go before it proves that it is wanted. It isn't pessimistic to say that there is still some doubt, despite Sunday's great turnout. Less than 3,000 turned out to see the Cincinnati Reds defeat the Pittsburgh Pirates Monday.

Brooklyn is making one of the smartest moves of the season. Jack Collins, aid to Prexy Branch Rickey, is conducting a survey of Brooklyn and Long Island defense plans, to find out what starting time is preferable to the greatest number. In the meantime, Rickey is keeping an anxious eye on the attendance at twilight games. The attendance at the twilights, figured in with the results of Collins' survey, will determine the starting time for the rest of the seven scheduled twilight games.

Hagg Expected

Gunder Hagg, the Swedish running marvel, is expected to arrive in the United States this month. This announcement was released by Daniel J. Ferris, secretary of the National A.A.U., who has booked Hagg for an appearance at Tiborovich Stadium June 20. Hagg broke nine world records last summer.

Has anyone happened to remember that there is a world lightweight title bout this month? There is little expecting being done on the Beau Jack-Bob Montgomery 15-rounder May 21. Still less is mentioned about the fact that Montgomery is the survivor of the New York commission's elimination tournament.

NEW BOARD MEMBER

Jack Ryan, former Marquette and Wisconsin football coach, is not a Milwaukee school board member. He is campaigning to limit the time high school youths may play in basketball. He suggests alternate periods.

RANGERS, NOT COMMANDOS

Refer to those obstacle courses as RANGER courses, not as Commando courses. Rangers is the American of the British "Commandos."

In 60 years of National League baseball the New York Giants have won 15 pennants and finished second as many times.

Five Months On Arctic Ice-Cap Awaiting Rescue

Seven Of Nine Army Fliers Survive To Tell Grim, Heroic Tale

THREE WOULD BE RESCUERS PERISH

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, May 5.—To the records of World War II today was added the dramatic story of how seven of nine army fliers were saved after spending five months on a Greenland ice-cap following the crash of their Flying Fortress.

Details of the grim and heroic events were disclosed after three of the men taking part in the adventure had given President Roosevelt a first-hand report on their experiences. Two of the planes crew and three would-be rescuers perished during the ordeal.

Plane Broke In Two

The Fortress crashed on the ice-cap near the west coast of Greenland last November when it was searching for another airplane reported overdue. The plane broke in two and the radio was wrecked. With one of the men suffering from a broken arm, the crew set up quarters in the tail of the ship's fuselage.

The bomber had lodged itself on the edge of a crevasse. After about ten days the crevasse had widened to 50 feet and the tail started to slip into the gaping split. The men tied the wreckage to the edge of the ice cliff.

operator of Lacrosse, Wis., who later was killed, got the radio operating and summoned help from a plane which had already begun a search for the missing men.

Fifteen days later, the plane, piloted by the famed Arctic and Antarctic explorer, Col. Bert Balchen, of the air corps, came over and dropped supplies.

The radio calls for help also reached Lieut. Max H. Demorest, of Flint, Mich., at a weather station a few miles away. Demorest and Sgt. Don Telly, San Antonio, Tex., set out for the wrecked plane on motor sleds.

The two men were forced to leave their sleds and reach the plane by foot. Returning to bring in his sled, Demorest and his sled disappeared into a crevasse.

Three Killed In Attempt

Then a Grumman airplane, piloted by Lieut. John A. Pritchard of the Coast Guard, and carrying Radioman B. A. Bottom, reached the wrecked plane. Corp. Howarth was ordered to go to the Coast Guard plane and tell Pritchard to take off because of a closing in fog. Howarth accompanied the Coast Guardsmen on their takeoff. The Grumman crashed and all three men were killed.

While the other men awaited rescue, Capt. Armand L. Monteverde, Air Corps, of Anaheim, Calif., who had piloted the Fortress, ordered two of his men to take Lieut. William F. O'Hara, Scranton, Pa., whose feet had frozen, towards possible shelter. One of the men, Pvt. Clarence Wedel, Canton, Ohio, dropped to his death in a crevasse. Both of Lieut. O'Hara's feet had to be amputated later.

In February, Col. Balchen launched a Navy PBY flying boat on its belly and picked up some of the men. In April the weather permitted his second and third landings to rescue the remainder.

Axis Bases, Fields At Bizerte Blasted In American Attack

Raid On Enemy-Held Tunisia Port By "Large Force"; Many Direct Hits

By CLINTON GREEN (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, May 5.—Huge fires burned among vital enemy installations at Bizerte on Tuesday after American Flying Fortresses smashed heavily at that Axis-held Tunisian port in a raid planned in close co-operation with the advancing land army.

Direct hits were scored on Jet-ties opposite the submarine base and on important hangars, the naval base itself and the town area near the mouth of the harbor, increasing greatly the difficulties of any Axis plan for withdrawal.

During the attack, executed Monday, the huge Forts were escorted by Speedy P-33 Lightnings and RAP Spitfires of the strategic air force. Headquarters spokesmen referred to the mission as a "large force" and its assignment was planned to bring the full weight of these planes to the aid of the land army's push on Bizerte.

Varied Legislation Signed By Governor

P. R. D. C. Name Now Pennsylvania State Guard; Two Bills Affect Coal Mining

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, May 5.—Legislation changing the name of the Pennsylvania Reserve Defense Corps to Pennsylvania State Guard was approved on Tuesday by Gov. Edward Martin.

The chief executive also signed a measure removing the prohibition against a labor leader, politician or businessman becoming a member of the Pennsylvania Labor Relations board. It paved the way for the appointment of Leo Abernathy, former president of the Central Labor Union of Pittsburgh, who broke with his colleagues to support Martin for governor last fall.

Two bills affecting coal production were also approved. They further regulate lamps to be carried by shot-firers and fire bosses in bituminous mines and provide that certain low pressure boilers used for heating purposes only shall be exempt from the present prohibition against the installation of boilers within 100 feet of anthracite mines.

Other legislation approved exempt alumni or alumnae associations in certain cases from the act regulating the solicitation of funds, waive the provision requiring fraternal benefit societies to hold meetings under certain conditions, and provide that property owned by the federal government shall not be exempt from local taxation if it is otherwise taxable.
